

EDITORIAL

The editors were saddened to learn of Richard Montgomery's sudden passing away. Richard was a friend, colleague, and mentor to many. British orthopaedic association and, in particular, the British Limb Reconstruction Society, have lost a true champion of science and art. It is fitting that we pay tribute to Richard here in STLR to remind us of his contributions to our field.

Paul Harwood
Konrad Mader
Selvadurai Nayagam